"Oh, no," replied his wife. "Why did you think so?"
"And at that moment Peggy, in her ordinary dress, walked into the room with a plate in her hand.
"Singular," said Mr. Savage to himself but made no further explanation.
It was a month since Peggy's entrance into the family, and she had given every satisfaction.

Still, it was plain to be seen that some Mies Olvia had come to reside with them, and every one was well, but Mrs. Savage looked ar xious.

So did her sister.
So also did Mr. Savage.
The ladies exchanged mysterious glancs with each other, and the gentleman often shook his head warningly at his eldest boy, when he had just opened his lips to say something.
Mr. Savage often asked his wife what could trouble her, and she frequently said:

of manufacture is a secret. It is impossible to obtain the results that are wrought by this remedy if one does not have the perfect skill acquired only by years of practice for compounding and assimilating the simple elements which enter into its composition.

The learned Dr. Foster, the honored head of Clifton Springs sanitarium, once addithat having roughly analyzed this remedy he recognized that the elements that compose it were simple but he attributed the secret of its power to the method of its compounding, and this method no one knows except the manufacturers and no one can acquire it.

Our advice to our readers, therefore, cannot be too strongly emphasized. As eyou would prefer virtue to vice, gold to dross, physical happiness to physical misery, shun the imitator and resuse thereby to lend your aid financially to those who seek to get, by trading upon another's reputation and honeaty, a sale for wares and goods which on their merits are fit only to be rejected as the veriest refuse. You can neither afford to patronize such people nor can you afford to take their injurious compounds into your system. When you call for Warner's Safe Ocre see that the wrapper is black with white letters and that the wrapper and label bear an imprint of on iron tofe, the trade mark, and that a whole in the institute of the trade mark.

We have the highest respect for the remedy we have mentioned and the highest regard for the manufacturers, and we cannot too highly commend their dignified and considerate tone in relation to those who would traduce their fair name and ruin the best interest of the public in such matters.

Medical.

Dr. J. E. SMITH, No. 1404 Chapline Street,

Noar Fourteenth Street,

The best evidence of a physician's success is the testing of the patients. The increasing demands for my professional services prove that I have dealt honorably and fairly with those who have consulted mo. I never use a patient's name without permission, though I have many humes the had been pronounced incurable. A thorough mod ical education with many years hospital experience and familiarity with therapute agents, a close observance of temperamental peculiarities and strict attention to hygienic managument immres success, a cure is possible, and I frankly give the patient my opinion.
